Why would you like to be staff?:

One of the most important things to me is helping people. I have always been a person who has been willing to help people in whatever way they need. Ever since I can remember, I have had a great passion for helping others. As a staff member, I want to be able to help anyone with whatever they might need. I want to be able to help the OP Blocks community grow and thrive as it is right now. I wish to make this server a friendly environment for people to come and enjoy their time without being criticized.

Why should you be chosen over others?

I feel like everyone should get an equal chance no matter what. But the thing that makes me stand out is my experience and determination.

How often are you online per week?

I try my best to be on every day. Usually for like 2-5 hours.

What previous experience do you have with server moderation? If none, leave blank.

I have had a good amount of experience. I have been a moderator on Mineplex, but I did step down due to unfair treatments. I was an admin on Kladkatt, which was a survival server, but I stepped down because no one plays now. I was a Helper on Hypixel but last year I ended up in the hospital due to a tumor and I didn't get to play so I was demoted, which in my opinion is unfair.

Do you have any previous punishments on any server/s?

No, I do not.

How interactive are you with the community?

I try my best to come on the forums as much as I can. Although I don't have a lot of posts, I try to read all of them. On the server its self, I try to be on every day and answer everyone's questions. I welcome every new player and try to help them out with whatever they might need.

Are you able to record in viewable quality?

Yes I am

How many applications have you made prior to this? What date?

One, last month

Anything Else?

Uh, I like photography and I am invested in it, started my own company up from the ground and it is very successful.

Scenarios

You notice the server is encountering major issues / is offline. What do you do?

First, see if I have perms to do anything to fix it. If not immediately notify anyone above me who would have the perms and let everyone know that we are working on it. I would not give them an exact time, however. This is for the reason if something goes wrong, I don't want to get their hopes up and for some reason, it doesn't come online at that time. I would like to give them a time frame. EX. "Hey guys, the server is experiencing some issues right now. So sorry for the inconvenience but we are working on it. Should be up in 15-30 Min!"

You are arguing with a player who starts attacking you. What do you do?

Well, it depends on what type of attacking and what they are attacking, for example, you as a staff member or religion, etc. First thing is, you need to stay calm and civil. You never retaliate. You must reply in a respectful matter no matter what they are saying to you.

You catch a friend breaking the rules. How would you approach this situation?

First, let someone know who has a higher rank than me, then talk to them and try to understand why they did what they did. Let them know that there are rules and they must be held up. Punish them accordingly. Even if they are a friend rules are rules.

If a rule has been broken but is not fully explained, what will you do?

Let a higher staff member know ASAP, but give them a warning since it is my fault if it wasn't fully explained. I would take the time to explain it to the player and make sure they understand everything so this doesn't happen again.
